Profile

I am a Junior Developer with exposure to many front-end tools such as Javascript, jQuery, Angular, CSS, and Sass. Passionate about cleanly designed problem solving web applications. Seeking an innovative company which values collaboration and teamwork. I'm an active proponent of the MVC framework Angular for creating dynamic views in web applications as well as many scaffolding tools like Yeoman, Bootstrap and the preprocessor Sass for enhanced frontend design features.

My personal development projects include a web application using Angular and web crawling API'S which allow users to set and track reading goals for online content.
